JACOB PERKINS,

HAVING invented an effectual check for detecting counterfeit Bank Paper, which has received the sanction of one Bank, and the approbation of the undersigned eminent artists, and having obtained a patent, securing to him, and to his assigns, the exclusive right of the invention, hereby offers to his fellow citizens the privilege of using it upon terms, to be agreed on between him and any person disposed to avail themselves of a guard against counterfeits.

THE undersigned having examined Jacob Perkin's new invented method to detect counterfeit Bank paper, do approve of the plan, it being impossible to engrave or sink two plates perfectly alike, without the original die or hub, the counterfeiter would find it impossible to make an impression which would perfectly gage with the check from the original die.

One Hundred Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the Subscriber, on Tuesday the second of this inst. April, living in Kent county, Maryland, near Chester Town, the following described Negroes, viz. William, about 5 feet 5 or 6 inches high, a yellowish complexioned fellow, about thirty years of age, formerly the property of doctor William Mathews, he has been very much given to running away, and has been so often described in the public papers within this twelve months that any further description of him seems needless.—Jacob, about 6 feet high, and about 32 years of age, of a common Negroe complection, down look, his little finger of his left hand stands straight, occasioned by the cut of a sickle. Patt, the wife of said Jacob, about 27 years of age, a small light made woman of a yellowish complection, with thick lips for an American of her stature, she is a very good needle woman, and spins on either small or great wheel, and is very handy in any common house work.—Two children of the said Jacob's and Patt's, the one a male child about four years old, the other a female child about two years old. The above described Negroes took with them, besides their own wearing apparel, three coats, two of which were linsey cloth of a light grey color, both new; one of the two was a great deal too large for either of the said fellows; the other coat of brown cloth, half worn; three under jackets, one a velvet, another a drab, the other a light colored linsey cloth do, one new pair of Calf skin shoes, lined with linnen and bound with leather, one pair of boots remarkably large in the legs, several pairs of stockings and a silver watch, all stolen: their own wearing apparel as follows—William had on a light-horse regimental coat worked with silver twist, (which coat he had when he was brought home to me the first of February last, a round sailor jacket (blue,) thickset breeches, patched with corduroy in the stride, with other necessary clothing. Jacob, two linsey cloth coatees, lead colored, one new the other half worn, blue linsey cloth jacket, half worn, two pairs of linsey cloth trowsers, of a lead colour, the one new the other half worn, tolerable good shoes and stockings. Patt has every day cloathing, and her children wore home-made linen and linsey, her other cloathing not so well known; it is uncertain which course they may take, as William is such an experienced coaster.

Any person or persons apprehending said negroes or sounding them, so that their master may get them again, shall be entitled to the above reward, or in proportion for either of them, that is to say, 40 dollars for each of the fellows, and twenty dollars for the wench and children, and if brought home, all reasonable charges paid by

BENSON GEARS.

N. B.—All masters of vessels and others, are forbid harboring them at their peril. B. G.

The propoſals will ſpecify the price of the ſeveral component parts of the ration, as well as thoſe of ſubſtitutes or alternatives for parts thereof.

The rations are to be furniſhed in ſuch quantities as that there ſhall at all times, during the term of the propoſed contracts, be ſufficient for the conſumption of the troops at Michilimackinac, Detroit Niagara and Oſwego, for ſix months in advances, and at each of the other poſts on the weſtern waters, for at leaſt three months in advance, of good and wholeſome proviſions, if the ſame ſhall be required. It is alſo to be permitted to all and every of the commandants of fortified places, or poſts, to call for at ſeaſons when the ſame can be tranſported, or at any time in caſe of urgency, ſuch ſupplies of like proviſions in advance, as in the diſcretion of the commandant ſhall be deemed proper. It is to be underſtood that the contractor is to be at the expence and riſk of iſſuing the ſupplies to the troops, and that all loſſes, ſuſtained, by the depredations of an enemy, or by means of the troops of the United States, ſhall be paid for at the price of the article captured or deſtroyed, on the depoſitions of two or more perſons of creditable characters, and the certificate of a commiſſioned officer, aſcertaining the circumſtances of the loſs, and the amount of the articles, for which compenſation ſhall be claimed.

The privilege is to be underſtood to be reſerved to the United States of requiring, that none of the ſupplies which may be furniſhed under any of the propoſed contracts ſhall be iſſued, until the ſupplies which have or may be furniſhed under contracts now in force have been conſumed, and that a ſupply in advance may be always required at any of the fixed poſts on the Sea-board or Indian frontiers not exceeding three months.

PHILADELPHIA.

MONDAY EVENING, APRIL 29.

From the New York Gazette and General Advertiſer.

The Anti-Revolutioniſt,
No. II.

To the Federaliſts of New York.

BRETHREN AND FRIENDS,

In the New York Gazette of Tueſday laſt, I preſumed to addreſs you ſome obſervations, intended to invite your thoughts and exertions to the enſuing elections—I aſſerted that a French Revolution is beginning in this country; and I illuſtrated the poſition, not by new facts or arguments, for none are neceſſary—The proofs are every where—they ſtare you in the face every moment—The State governments—the preſſes—and all the ſources of public information, are rapidly paſſing into the hands of Frenchmen—and yet it is ſaid, you will allow this city to be repreſented by the moſt virulent and incurable of Jacobins.

It was my intention, however, to have proceeded more minutely into proofs of the progreſs of the Revolutionary ſyſtem in this ſtate—but, as the election comes on before either the acts of the Legiſlature or the journals of the houſe can be procured, I am not able to recur with much accuracy to the proceedings of laſt winter.

The late houſe enjoyed, till near its deceaſe, the reputation of being FEDERAL—but, ſenſe may be requiſite, as well as honeſty and Federaliſm—and, in the hands of ſuch a man as Mr. Burr, DUPES are more dangerous inſtruments than KNAVES—Men of only a little diſcernment, ſaw that Mr. Burr, ſo often a candidate for the firſt majeſtracy of this ſtate, and for the firſt or ſecond in the union, did not quit thoſe high pretenſions for the mere uſual employments of ſtate legiſlation—that is, to alter the election law—grant ſome lotteries—and regulate the packing of Beef, &c.—Thoſe who knew the wonderful verſatility of his talents and his immeaſureable ambition, underſtood that the politics of the ſtate were to be changed from the foundation—but, to effect this, his agency muſt be concealed from the public view—He made no parade of influence—The maſter magician remained behind the curtain, and ſeemed to be ignorant of the Springs that moved the puppets—If he ever came forward in his ſtrength, he appeared like the Lyon among the beaſts—ruling calmly, by a nod or a jeſture—or ſimply intimating his wiſhes by his jackall Provoſt.

But the effects of his preſence are ſoon apparent—The Virginia and Kentucky Reſolutions were brought forward—each of them a wicked and inſolent declaration of war upon the United States—It was diſcovered, however, at Albany, that the Virginians had much reaſon on their ſide—and WROTE A GOOD STILE—and that the Kentuckians, in the honeſt love of Liberty, had gone A LITTLE TOO FAR—Another tranſaction was ſtill more diſgraceful—When the Maſſachuſetts Reſolutions were called up, it was thought that no American would oppoſe a meaſure calculated to emancipate this country from the dominion and inſolence of foreigners—ſtill leſs was it thought that this meaſure, being a general one, could be objected to by the very perſons who have clamoured ſo loudly againſt Britiſh influence—Mr. Burr roſe, and in a ſhort ſpeech proved, that "that fewer treaſons have been committed againſt this country by foreigners, than by natives."

Mr. King, from the weſtern diſtrict, made a ſingle and meritorious effort to oppoſe the current: but the houſe were convinced—it was decided that we ought to import Legiſlators from France and Ireland—I conſider theſe reſolutions as being a trial of ſtrength between our own country and foreign influence—and, as far as the event goes, it proves us to be the weakeſt.—We are expoſed without defence, to the intrigues and the corruptions of every nation that may think ſhe can profit by our diſtractions.—With inſurrections among the foreigners who are ſettled in the interior country;—with United Iriſhmen among thoſe of the towns—With Democratic Societies and oppoſition papers, under the direction of Frenchmen—With Gallatin, Genet, Findley, Dallas, and Lyon to rule us, and with the hopeful ſet of young politicians whom the Directory are educating among us for our future Legiſlators, we muſt not be ſurpriſed if we one day experience the convulſions and horrors ſo often repeated in France, Holland, Germany, Switzerland, Italy and Egypt.

In every country where Jacobins have exiſted, a principal means of their ſucceſs has been to excite jealouſies and diſcontents, and ſpread miſrepreſentations in the petty diſtricts where they have influence. By theſe means, and by promiſing to relieve the people from pretended oppreſſions, many a man is elected in this country from a SMALL DISTRICT, who would never acquire reſpectability enough to be elected by a large number of his fellow citizens. On this difference turns the whole theory and practice of diſtricting ſtates for elections. It is always a Jacobin operation, and on that account, a propoſal was made laſt winter to divide the ſtate with as many diſtricts as there are Senators to be choſen. The firmneſs and wiſdom of our Senate have, on many occaſions prevented the adoption of the moſt improper meaſures: they muſt be radically Jacobinized, and this will be done the firſt opportunity that occurs, by cauſing each Senator to be elected from his own local diſtrict.

The next ſtep was to reduce the ſalaries of the Judges of the Supreme Court. Perhaps no ſtate in the Union ever poſſeſſed a more able and reſpectable bench than this. It happens, however, that the two Anti-Federal Judges are men of fortune, and the three others being leſs ſo, it has been tho't practicable to ſtarve them from their ſeats: This attack will be carried farther. Nothing would tend more to unhinge ſociety and diſſolve the bands of confidence and order, than to render the judiciary contemptible or corrupt. Nothing could better anſwer the purpoſes of a party than to fill it with ſuch men as Peter W. Yates, and other favorites of the late Governor.

The ſeſſion ended with an act about the River Bronx, which I ſhall take occaſion to conſider more fully hereafter——In the mean time, I requeſt your attention to the 11th page of the act as publiſhed by Mr. Furman——Remember that your city is annually waſted by ſickneſs, and frequently deſolated by fires, which are remote from the water——Ten years are granted in the firſt inſtance for bringing in the Bronx—and in the next ſection is ſeen what the public already believes to be the actual object of the Company—BANKING, and the EAST-INDIA TRADE. Ten ſevers are to deſolate your city—ten times ten fires to deſtroy your houſes——The Bronx is pre-occupied by this Company; and, under the pretence of removing a calamity which requires the inſtant and ſtrennous exertions of all friends to the city—under this pretence, ſome Capitaliſts are ſporting with SCRIP, and a bankrupt politican repairing his fortune by "monied tranſactions and operations."

Fellow Citizens!

You will pardon my warmth if, in the firſt fervor and bitterneſs of indignation, I utter myſelf in execration againſt the authors of this flagitious plot. The lives of thouſands depend upon the police and ſupplies of this city——Your trade and revenue in a great meaſure depend on it——But the project is adjourned ten years; and in the mean time, Mr. Burr and a junto of Directors, of whom three quarters are antifederaliſts, are purſuing an entirely different object, by a kind of POLITICO-COMMERCIAL-FINANCIAL-BRONX-OPERATION.

Fellow Citizens!

This is a dangerous man in any ſituation, but particularly ſo if elected with the herd of the ſame ticket. I rely, however, with confidence that the vaſt wealth, the great numbers, the reſpectability, and the important commercial intereſts of this city, will not again be miſrepreſented by any perſon from the ſlough of the Democratic Society——Look at the reſpectable and confidential names compoſing the Federal Ticket; men of perſonal worth, reputable in their ſeveral profeſſions; long known to you as good citizens, and undoubted friends to their country, and its independence. In ſuch men you may fully confide. The ſacrifices which many of them have made, deſerve your thanks and ſupport. I repeat it then——Let the merchant, the mechanic, the lawyer and the labourer——Let the rich and the poor, and all claſſes unite, come forward and exert themſelves——they have a common intereſt in the proſperity of the country——Let them commit their public concerns to men of SENSE and HONESTY, and we ſhall ſoon ſee this city reſtored to its former reſpectability, and under a juſt and pure police and legiſlation, rapidly increaſing in influence, commerce and opulence.

Boston, April 24.

A letter was received from capt. Mackay, of the ſhip Galen of this place, dated London Feb. 22. He informs, that in 24 days after he left Boſton, he was ſafe moored in the Thames; that he experienced blowing weather on his paſſage, and had an opportunity of proving the goodneſs of the ſhip; that he was purſued for 16 hours by a veſſel (which finally proved to be a Britiſh frigate) when his men were all called to their quarters, and diſplayed the moſt commendable ſpirit, and that a convoy was appointed to ſail on the 8th of March, which he ſhould embrace to return for America.

LONDON, FEB. 17.

Nicholas Tomlinſon, late commander of La Suffiſante ſloop, is ſtruck off the liſt of captains for inattention while on board the Lord Hawke privateer, when ſhe engaged a Spaniſh packet, in not anſwering the ſignal of La Nymph frigate when ſhe appeared in ſight.

When captain Peyton was introduced on Wedneſday at the Levee, the King ſaid, "Captain Peyton, I am glad to ſee you on ſuch an occaſion;" and laying his right hand on the officer's ſhoulder, reſumed, "I return you thanks for your ſervices." His majeſty after conferring the honor of knighthood on captain Thompſon, congratulated him in the ſame manner.

A motion was made on Tueſday in the court of King's Bench, on the part of Earl Thanet and others, proſecuted for an attempt to reſcue Arthur O'Connor at Maidſtone, to have a trial at bar in Weſtminſter, which was granted, and the 25th of April fixed upon as the day of trial.

EXTRACT.

The Jacobins calculate and act upon the frailties and paſſions of human nature. This is the myſtery of their ſcience, and like all other profeſſional men, they underſtand it better than the friends of Government.

They know the weak ſide of the New-England farmers and Federaliſts, to be a love of money and of courſe a dread of expence.—They have therefore ſeized with art and avidity, this thing which leads directly to the heart;—Abandoning France to her fate, and almoſt ceaſing to calumniate the beſt patriots, they have confined themſelves lately, chiefly to the expences of naval arrngements, the coſts of a ſtanding army, the expences of fortifications, the eight per cent loan, and the Land tax.

This ſcheme the moſt politic, and the moſt dangrous which they could have adopted has not been without its effect. It has created a diviſion already, which is humiliating to our country, and which muſt be gratifying to France. If this country is to be deſtroyed, if it is like Holland—like Geneva—like Venice—like Switzerland—like Piedmont, to be ſubjugated to France, to be plundered;—its young men to be maſſacred—its women to be violated—its morals to be poiſoned—its religion to be abrogated—its laws and liberties to be ſubverted it will be effected through the medium of its parſimony; its love of gold.

NEW-YORK, April 27.

We ſtopped the Preſs laſt evening to ſtate, that agreeably to Public Notice, the ſupporters of the Federal Republican Ticket aſſembled at the houſe of Mr. Smith, in Broadway, to concert meaſures, preparatory to the Election— The Democrats had early taken poſſeſſion of the room—which, however, did not prevent Mr, Smith, the former Chairman, from taking the Chair. As ſoon as the Meeting was organized, and proceedings were commenced, the UNIFORM violators of order and decorum commenced their irregular career, and cauſed ſuch confuſion as to render an adjournment indiſpenſable. The Federaliſts accordingly did adjourn to the Military Academy—and immediately organized themſelves. The proceedings of the laſt Meeting were read and approved—The names of the Ward-Committee were called over, and other arrangements were about taking place, when a ſcene of diſorganization was commenced by the Jacobins which would have done honor to the Infernal region—An immediate adjournment of the Meeting was moved and carried—and the peaceable citizens, who had aſſembled to deliberate in harmony, with their characteriſtic good order retired to their reſpective homes—leaving the Jacobins to enjoy the contemptible ſatisfaction of gaining an opportunity to declare the atrocity of their views——After this commenced a ſcene of riot, and folly that would have aſtoniſhed any perſon unaccuſtomed to Democratic method of doing buſineſs——Confuſion was the word, and it was literally realized.

No doubt can exiſt that the whole was a preconcerted meaſure intended to fruſtrate the laudable views of the Federaliſts—Democratic demagogues appeared and ſpoke both at Mr. Smith's and at the Academy—and, with an effrontery peculiar to ſtupid dulneſs, the wretched tools of the faction in a place to which they were not invited, and where they had no poſſible right to appear—diſguſted and offended every peaceably diſpoſed citizen.

The ſupporters of Government are now exerting themſelves—the Jacobins foreſee their down-fall in this City—and like a drowning man, are catching at every expedient—are making a laſt and convulſive ſtruggle—and nothing but the calm firmneſs of the Federaliſts prevents the moſt atrocious extremities.

ALBANY, April 23.

Bradford, one of the famous leaders of the former inſurrection in the Weſtern counties of Pennſylvania, it is ſtated in ſome of the papers has received a pardon from the Supreme Executive of the Union. Should Fries, the leader of the preſent rebellion in that ſtate, meet with ſimilar lenient treatment, the Jacobins will be induced to engage in frequent inſurrections, for the ſake of having their names known abroad.

Mr. Andrews,

I have ſeen a paragraph in the Centinel of April 19th, extracted from the Vergennes Gazette, that a Leroi, a Frenchman, had made an experiment that phoſphorus, if internally applied, would ſurpriſingly ſtimulate a weak conſtitution, and even prolong, for a day, the life of a dying man. And that (as a recommendation of the French nation) the arts and ſciences had not been neglected in France during the revolution of the republic.

Whereas it ſeems to me, that Mr. Leroi gives the above as his diſcovery I thought proper to make it appear that the ſtimulating operation of phoſphorus has been known in Europe a number of years before the French Revolution.

Hankewiz has diſcovered by chymical experiments that all animal parts contain in abundance more or leſs of the animal ſulphur or phoſphorus; Marggraff was the firſt who diſcovered by chymical decompoſition the real nature of it, viz. that it is compoſed of a certain fixed acid, called ſince the phoſphoric acid, and the phlogiſton; and by that it is concluded by Mortimer (on the natural animal heat) that the phoſphoric acid gives the nouriſhment to the phlogiſton which is ſeparated by the motion of the heart and blood, and thus by the uniting of both theſe matters, in proportion to the quantity, a quicker or ſlower circulation of the fluids will enſue, and accordingly a ſtronger or leſſer heat in the animal body will be the conſequence.

After the nature of the phoſphorus has been known, its inward uſe by weak and cold conſtitutions, came ſoon in recommendation, and to my knowledge has been given ſometimes in ſuch caſes before the year 1784, and ſometimes without the leaſt operation.

The Gazette.

PHILADELPHIA,

MONDAY EVENING, APRIL 29.

A CIRCUMSTANCE more menacing than any that has yet ariſen in this country, has been diſcloſed within the laſt forty-eight hours.

Through the active vigilance of the Mayor of this city, a diſcovery has been made which leads to the moſt alarming concluſions. A large quantity of military clothing, bearing the uniform and inſignia of the French Republic has been ſeized, and the perſons more immediately concerned in the ſecret and clandeſtine fabrication of it, have been committed to priſon.

Providence has once more interfered to preſerve us—once more is it placed within our power to reſcue ourſelves and our families from the gripe of an all-deſtroying monſter. But not a day, an hour, nor a moment ſhould be loſt in purſuing the only meaſure, which a regard to ſelf-preſervation, in this portentous criſis, admits.

A memorial ſhould inſtantly be addreſſed to the Preſident of the United States, requeſting an immediate and complete enforcement of the law which provides againſt the injuries that may be derived to the citizens of the United States by the agency of aliens reſident within the ſame.

That there are men among ourſelves equally criminal with thoſe, who are thus concerned in preparing cloathing, forging arms, and practiſing all the preparatory ſteps to the overthrow of our government, and the ſubjugation of our country, cannot be doubted; but the ſhield of citizenſhip, which they moſt unworthily bear, is interpoſed againſt the ſame ſummary proceſs, which our ſafety requires, and the laws authoriſe towards aliens.

The preſent caſe is one which admits of no contradiction—and allows no delay. The cloathing is French uniform—on the buttons of the coats and waiſtcoats is placed the French military inſignia, with the legend

République Française.

It cannot, therefore, even be ſaid, as is already attempted, that this cloathing was intended for the troops in St. Domingo (which in itſelf would be a flagrant infraction of our laws)—No; the commander of that iſland is determined on independence; and he would not, in ſuch a moment, write "French Republic" on the buttons of his ſoldiers.

We ſhall be ſafe in ſuppoſing that this infernal uniform is prepared for an army which is to ſtart up among ourſelves, completely diſtinguiſhed, by its cloathing as by its deſigns and actions, from the citizens of the United States. An army, which at midnight, may realiſe the threat of a villain who is ſtill tolerated among us, and who ſaid, "he hoped the day was not diſtant when he ſhould enter Philadelphia at the head of an armed force, and not leave one brick upon another."

Has not the LATE French Conſul, Le Tombe, granted his certificate of protection as Conſul General of the French republic with the United States, to the very fellow who has directed the clandeſtine fabrication of this cloathing, and who is now in priſon? Have not Le Tombe's functions long ſince ceaſed? What does this mean? Has the infatuation, which has proſtrated Europe, taken complete poſſeſſion of our faculties too?

To ſtrengthen the inferences ſo obviouſly to be drawn from this diſcloſure, that infamous morning print, called the Aurora, has already attempted to cover the tranſaction with a veil of ridicule.

Some other circumſtances, of which we have been apprized, ſince writing the foregoing, tend to exhibit this diſcovery in a light ſtill more important and alarming. The cloathing, it ſeems, had been diſtributed in ſmall parcels at different places in different parts of the city: the perſon at whoſe houſe the firſt quantity was diſcovered, poſitively denied that he had any thing of the kind in his poſſeſſion, and it became neceſſary to burſt open the doors; when a quantity of uniform coats, together with ſhirts, overalls &c. were immediately diſcovered and ſeized. The quantity taken at other places was far more conſiderable. Two conſiderations of the moſt ſerious nature, ariſe out of this very remarkable fact: That the cloathing muſt have been diſtributed not leſs for the purpoſe of eluding reſearch, than for the more ſudden and effectual perpetration of the obvious deſign; and that, in all probability, but a ſmall part of the ſcheme and of the preparations for carrying it into effect, have been as yet brought to light.

The firſt thing we hear from a new republic, after having received its liberty from the Great Nation, is of enormous requiſitions, in proviſions, jewels, caſh, plate, pictures, ſtatues and men. Thus, like the crocodile, does ſhe find ſubſiſtence by devouring her own offſpring.

PHILOSOPHY,

Which (as a celebrated writer has obſerved) ſeems to have been deſigned by the Almighty, for a Great Original, whereby for man to dreſs and poliſh his uncourtly mind;—to be his ſolace in ſorrow—his comfort in adverſity,—and laſt refuge from the diſguſting devices of a juggling world;—ſeems at length, after withſtanding ſo many wide and reiterated perverſions, to be brought to that complete ſtate of confuſion and depravity, at which the malevolent and unruly diſpoſitions of a reſtleſs herd of diſcontented ſophiſts have ſo long aſpired. All that is uncouth and prepoſterous,—all that is ſhallow, ridiculous and abſurd,—is now Philoſophy. Bombaſt and Romance, indutus pileô, diſpenſe the honors of the Academe; Impudence, Ignorance and Vice, defile the ſeats of learning and expel genius and ſenſe from the Porch and the Grove.

"Philoſophy, as it before us lies,
Seems to have borrowed ſome ungrateful taſte
Of doubts, impertinence and nicetics
From every age thro' which it paſs'd;
But always with a ſtronger reliſh of the laſt.
More oft in fools and madmen's hands than ſages,
She ſeems a medley of all ages,—
With a huge fardingal to ſwell her ſuſtian ſtuff,
A new commode, a top-knot and a ruff,
Her face patch'd o'er with modern pedantry,
With a long ſweeping train
Of comments and diſputes, ridiculous and vain,
All of old cut with a new die."

—The ſcourge and curſe of ſociety,—the malignant peſtilence of life—the sharpener of ſorrow—the embitterer of woe,—and the ſting, that, when diſtreſs annoys, ſtill has reſerved dregs to pour from her dire cup, to heighten miſery the moſt conſummate.

TITLES.

Never were theſe glittering trappings of pageantry more ſhockingly abuſed than at the preſent day. How prepoſterous does is ſound to us when we hear "the Honorable", and L. L. D. tacked to the name of one, not only deſpicable for the narrowneſs of his acquirements, but who never performed an honorable action in the whole courſe of his life! The great Eraſmus once obſerved, with a contempt which became him, Unde Doctoris titulo gloriantur, niſi ut doceant? Could this learned man be permitted to viſit the glimpſes of our farthing ruſh-light, we could ſhew him Doctors, not only unqualified to teach, but too ignorant and too muliſh to be taught.

Poor JANUS is toiling with all the ſeverity of an anchorite, and ſcribbling with all the inveteracy and redundancy of a fool, to efface the odium of a circumſtance which after all, is in the eyes of his aſſociates no odium at all. Silly wight! and has he yet to learn, that the volume of the paſt, is never unclaſped by revolutionizers, and that if a man is ready to ſeize the moment as it flies and join them in aſſaſſinating the commonwealth, they never enquire whether he has been a whig or a tory, an honeſt man or a knave—whether he rode into Philadelphia with a crown of laurel on his head, or a traitor's head on his ſhoulders without a crown?

"He has come round."

A thouſand times in a week do we hear expreſſed this inconſiderate conviction of meek and forgiving federaliſts. It is the extreme of infatuation. Never came that man round, who, "any time theſe four years," retained the tincture of Jacobiniſm. A man may hate Great-Britain, as a man may hate the kingdom or the republic of France: but an object of hatred has long exiſted, paramount to all others,—the greater ſwallowing up the leſs; and whoſo hath within that time, curſed his own country and cloven to France (as all jacobins have done) muſt be a villain in grain. The whole blood of his cankered heart, muſt be of the nature of that black drop, or ſeed of original ſin, which Mohammed wrung from the beaſt Al Borak; nor do I think any thing ſhort of a ſimilar operation to that which he performed, can ever qualify a quondam democrat to aſſociate in any chriſtian ſociety.

IL PENSEROSO.

I hate this ſpungy world with all its ſtore,
This buſtling, noiſy nothingneſs of life,
This treach'rous herd of friends with hollow core,
This vale of ſorrow, and this field of ſtrife.

Me ſhall ſome little tranquil thatch receive,
Some "ſettled low content," remote from care;
There will I pipe away the ſober eve,
And laugh, all day, at "Lady Fortune" there.

Why ſhould I mingle in the mazy ring
Of drunken Folly, at the ſhrine of Chance,
Where inſect Pleaſure flits on burniſh'd wing,
Eludes our wiſhes, and keeps up the dance.

When, in the quiet of an humble home,
Beſide the fountain, or upon the hill,
Where Strife, and Care, and Sorrow never come,
I may be free and happy if I will.

Yeſterday arrived the ſhip Birmingham Packet, capt. Kelly, from Bombay, whence he ſailed the 10th December, a month previous to which, lieut. Duval, of his Britannic majeſty's ſhip Zealous, arrived with diſpatches from Rear Admiral Nelſon, by way of the Deſart and Baſſorah, containing an account of the victory obtained over the French fleet; but it was generally believed the diſpatches were of much greater conſequence, from an intercepted packet of Buonaparte to the Directory, that was taken on its paſſage, and that they contained ample plans of the intended operations of the French army.—The Lieutenant returned by the ſame route to join his ſhip.

Immediately after his arrival every thing was put in the beſt poſture of defence, mounting additional guns where wanting: the European inhabitants had voluntarily embodied as a militia, and were daily training to the uſe of arms. The Governor had alſo convened the heads of the different caſts, and ordered them to ſelect about 2000 men to learn the military exerciſe, this had cauſed ſome uneaſineſs, as religious prejudices prevented their carrying arms, but they declared themſelves perfectly willing to aſſiſt in any other manner againſt the common enemy.

A war with Tippoo Saib was alſo looked on as inevitable; large quantities of cattle, and a number of troops, were gone down to the Malabar coaſt, to join the army from Bengal. There ſeemed to be great unanimity among all ranks and degrees of people in Bombay, and voluntary contributions, exceeding three millions of rupees, had been collected in that place and its dependencies, and remitted to England, to ſupport the war.

Rear Admiral Rainier, eight days previous to the ſailing of the Birmingham, had arrived in the Suffolk, of 74 guns, Trident, of 64 in company. The Centurion and Suffolk had ſailed, the former, it was reported, for the Red Sea, to prevent the paſſing of the French army. A ſquadron was alſo fitting out to follow her in a little time after.

Little apprehenſion was, however, entertained of the approach of Buonaparte's army, as it was conceived the paſſage down the Red Sea, would be attended with ſo many difficulties as to make it nearly impracticable, eſpecially as a Britiſh ſquadron would have the command of it: A march through the deſerts would be ſtill more difficult, as it was ſuppoſed by thoſe acquainted with the nature of the country, that a great part, if not all, muſt periſh in the attempt.

L'Union, French privateer, of 18 guns, had captured, to the northward of Bombay, a Mocha ſhip bound to Surat, and two others, out of which ſhe took ten lacks of rupees in treaſure, and afterwards ſent the ſhips to the Iſle of France. So unguarded was the Malabar coaſt at this time, the month of October, that the privateer was the whole day in ſight from the town of Bombay.

Extract of a letter written on board the ſhip Delaware, Stephen Decatur, commander, dated the 5th inſt.

Our time has been ſo much taken up in attending to the trade that we have had very little time, or chance of taking prizes. This is the ſixth fleet we have convoyed from the Havanna, amounting to 142 ſail, independent of thoſe conducted to it. We have been four days at an anchor ſince we left Reedy Iſland in December; and expect ſoon to return to port unleſs prevented by freſh inſtructions.

Preparations are making at Norwich, in Connecticut, for building a ſloop of war for the federal government, under the agency of Mr. Joſeph Howland. She will mount 18 guns, and is to be commanded by captain David Jewitt.

The information from Virginia makes it very probable that John Nichols, of Stafford, will not be re-elected; but in his place, Gen. Blackwell, a firm and able Federaliſt. Indeed the eyes of Virginia have been opened in the courſe of the laſt 12 months to ſuch a degree that there is more than equal chance a majority of the repreſentatives from that ſtate will be Federal.

Captain Kelly, of the ſhip Birmingham Packet, ſailed from Bombay the 10th of December, in company with the Engliſh armed ſhip Fame for London, parted company the next day—on the 12th of December, at day light in the morning, perceived five Mahratta Dingeys aſtern, ſtanding after us, at 11 o'clock, we being about two miles aſtern, took in ſteering ſails and prepared for action, they then took in ſail and hove too to the northward, when they were broadſides to us, could diſcover them crouded with men; ſeeing us prepared, after lying about an hour, made ſail and left us.

N. long. 45, 58, W. fell in with a brig—ſpread Spaniſh colours and fired a gun, kept on our courſe—at 11 we being then within muſket ſhot, fired a gun with ball, and kept hailing in Spaniſh to hoiſt out the boat and ſend her aboard, but not giving time to effect his, fired about twelve rounds with round and grape ſhot into the ſhip, at laſt the boat being got out captain Kelley went on board, and on her return Mr. Moore went alſo on board the Spaniſh captain then produced a book which he ſaid contained the King of Spain's decree, ordering all his ſhips to carry into port for adjudication all neutrals they fell in with from Engliſh ports, with cargoes, it was repreſented to him that the papers then produced containing full and ample teſtimony of the property being truly American, that he might detain the ſhip if he thought proper, but in caſe of leſs, recapture, &c he ſhould be held fully accountable; they kept us on board till the morning and after going on board the ſhip ſuffered us to proceed on our voyage; the brig was called Nomde Tobeſoma, captain Pedro de Ancory, from St. Andero, but whence bound he would not inform us. She mounted four twenty four pound carronades on ſlides, ſix ſix pounders and about 40 men. The following letters were thrown overboard at the time.

The ſhip Fortitude, captain Kearney, arrived at Bombay on the 18th of September, and not being able to diſpoſe of her cargo, ſailed the 4th of October for Calcutta.

The brig Hannah, Ennis of and from this port has been captured by a French privateer of 8 guns (one 24 pounder) and 90 men. The privateer has ſince been taken and carried into Kingſton.
